About Sania Zadorozny

Sania Zadorozny, a single mother of 4 and a native of Up State New York, has always been involved in Real Estate in one way or another. She watched her parents struggle to start their "American Dream" with only $5 in their pockets, after migrating to the United State from the Ukraine in the 1950's. By working hard and saving as much as they could, they ended up buying their first home, and shortly thereafter, ended up buying the entire block to become Landlords. This success from her parents inspired Sania to become involved in buying and renovating – for a profit! As her real estate transactions became more successful, Sania decided it was time to enjoy life, while still working hard. This is where she made the choice to move to Sarasota.

Sarasota truly became Sania's "Paradise!" She never looked back and soon developed many wonderful relationships with the local professionals, which increased her desire for real estate.

She obtained her license and dove right in. She worked for two larger real estate offices, where she started to make her name in the Sarasota area. Soon she found that bigger was not always better. She wanted to give her clients the personal service that they deserved and the feeling that their Agent did everything possible for them. That's when she met Chuck McKenna and her professional career took off.

Sania joined McKenna and Associates Realty and soon realized that the entire staff and Agents were not only co-workers, but actually, they were a "Family!" In addition, that personal touch was passed onto their clients. She learned that her Broker was going to be by her side no matter how hectic it can get and that neither herself, nor her client, would get lost in the crowd. Although a small company, it was large in all that it had to offer! She knew that she had found her home and has made McKenna and Associates Realty her family.

Sania has made many great friends over the years that started out as clients. Her personal assistant and dear friend, Ronald G. Allen, has helped to gain her success with his knowledge of Sarasota. The two work very closely and their deep respect for each other makes the two of them a winning team!

"If there was a better place to live, I would be there!"
